PAULEY TO QUIT ARMY POSITION

Denies Stassen's Exposure as Grain Speculator Forced Him Out.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—Edwin W. Pauley today prepared to resign from government service with a hot advance denial that he was forced out by Harold E. Stassen's public needling of his record as a grain speculator.

The California oil man, former Democratic National Committee treasurer and a close friend of President Truman, announced that he is quitting as assistant secretary of the Army Royall some time this month.

In a memorandum to the press distributed by the Army last night Pauley declared this is in accordance with plans he made known soon after taking the job Sept. 3. Thus Stassen, he said, can not "claim credit for bringing about my resignation."

Stassen Asked Pointed Question

The statement came two days after Stassen, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, called on Mr. Truman to answer this question:

"Does a man who has admitted under investigation that he made approximately a million dollars ($932,703 to be exact) in personal profit, by speculating since he was in increased prices of food and commodities, belong in the position of assistant to the secretary of the Army for procurement and industrial mobilization?"

Pauley said he told a Washington newspaper last Sept. 16 that he planned to stay in the army department "for only three or four months" and "I said very much the same thing in a public statement Dec. 15."

Issued After Senate Probe

The Dec. 15 statement was issued after a senate appropriations subcommittee seeking evidence that government "insiders" have made money in commodities called Pauley as a witness.

Pauley said then he never used his inside information in his trading and had begun to get out of the market as soon as he took the appointment under Royall.

Last night Pauley said he had learned that Stassen had "finally found out" about the plan to quit.

Evidently Stassen has decided to make a new "discovery," Pauley said.

It is obvious he would like to claim credit for bringing about my resignation and again mislead the public."

Pauley added:

"Meanwhile the significant point to Stassen's latest display of fraudulence is the obvious evidence that he is in retreat."

"When I first accused him of speculating, under oath, a series of

WALLACE WON'T SPEAK IN OHIO

He Cancels Scheduled Ap- pearance Before Pastors' Convention.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 14—Henry A. Wallace, third party candidate for president, today cancelled his engagement to speak at the Ohio Pastors' convention here Jan. 28.

Harold Young, secretary of the former vice president, explained in a telegram to the Ohio Council of Churches, sponsor of the convention, that "there might be political implications" in Wallace's remarks.

Dr. B. F. Lamb, executive secretary of the council, said the invitation was extended to Wallace nearly two years ago while he was secretary of commerce.

"Wallace was to speak on religion and its influence on rural life, a topic on which he has addressed similar church gatherings in other sections of the country for many years," Dr. Lamb said.

"It was understood at the time that he would not discuss politics and we appreciate Wallace's view that he can not speak publicly now that he is a presidential candidate without some political implications being attached to his remarks."

Wallace had been booked for two speeches before the pastors' convention.

Four local ministers had criticized the invitation, complaining that Wallace's appearance would give a political tinge to the convention.

Approximately 2500 Protestant ministers are expected to attend.

INCOME TAX DUE FOR 10 MILLION PAYERS

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—Ten million Americans face a tax deadline at midnight tomorrow and their loss will be Uncle Sam's gain—to the tune of over $2,000,000,000.

Since the deadline deals solely with taxes on 1947 income, its requirements are not affected by the Truman or the Knutson plans for cutting individual taxes on 1948 income.

Farmers, the only class of taxpayers previously untapped for 1947 income taxes, must file estimates of their income last year and the tax they owe on it.

Others who have to pay taxes in addition to those withheld from salaries will find tomorrow the deadline for changing or correcting estimates and for completing quarterly tax payments under their initial estimates last March 15.

These include doctors, lawyers and other professional workers, persons owning their own businesses, and salaried workers in the over $5,000 income brackets.

O. E. Kennedy Retires from Active Bank Duties After Career of Half Century

A career of 50 years' active association with the advancement of the city's oldest financial institution was terminated when O. E. Kennedy, president of the Marion County Bank retired from his duties as active head of the institution at the annual meeting of the directors yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Kennedy will continue as president of the bank an office he has held for more than 20 years, but will be relieved of active duties by Edson L. Bush who was named executive vice president and treasurer of the bank in yesterday's meeting. Mr. Bush, who shares with Mr. Kennedy, a record of half a century of service with the bank, will be in direct supervision of the bank's operations. Mr. Bush entered the employ of the bank just six months prior to Mr. Kennedy.

The organization of the board of directors followed the annual meeting of stockholders. Both meetings were held in the directors' room of the bank.

Other Officers Elected

Henry A. True was elected vice president and secretary, Russell C. Scare, cashier and Kenneth Tobin, assistant cashier. Mr. Bush was elected to membership on the board and reelected were the following directors: John H. Clark, who will again serve as the bank's attorney, J. Harold Grigby, James C. Woods, Morgan E. Burke, W. Hoover Brown, Harry J. Barnhart, Mr. Kennedy and Mr. True.

Mr. Kennedy joined the staff of the Marion County bank on April 1, 1898, when the institution was located in the room now occupied by the Home Building Savings Loan. Entering the business as a clerk, he served in various capacities, taking over the

TRUMAN SEES SLUMP THREAT IN INFLATION

Renews Plea for Standby Control Powers in Eco- nomic Report.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—President Truman declared today that American prosperity is riding a "wave of inflation" toward the peril of a "serious" business slump.

Keying his second annual economic report to a renewed plea for legislative power to cope with soaring prices, the chief executive told the Republican-controlled congress:

"The American people are keenly aware that inflation is the dominant problem in our affairs."

Mr. Truman used urgent words in demanding once again the full ten-piece kit of anti-inflation tools which the lawmakers refused him during last fall's special session. He asserted that standby price, wage and rationing authority are "needed, needed badly, and needed promptly."

In addition to congressional action, the President called upon business to cut prices wherever possible, "foregoing a quick and dangerous excess profit in favor of long-run stability."

And he urged labor to be "moderate" in its third round wage demands.

Nor did he yield any ground on taxes.

Urges Debt Reduction

He insisted that the $7,500,000,000 treasury surplus now in sight for next June 30 must be used to lower the national debt, not cut tax rates as the Republicans are determined to do.

And Mr. Truman repeated his proposal for a $40 a person "cost of living" income tax cut to be made up by higher taxes on corporations.

The economic report, last of three major White House messages to the new session of congress set these national goals for 1949:

■ A three per cent gain in production. Last year's target of five per cent was narrowly missed—seven per cent more goods was turned out but fewer services, such as medical, laundry and the like, were made available.

■ Jobs for 59,000,000 as a year-long average. This is 1,000,000 above the 1947 figure even though last year's June peak topped the so-called "full employment" goal of 60,000,000 jobs.

■ The start of a broad social, public welfare, resources conservation and industrial development program designed to immunize the nation from "periodic depressions" and to "provide Americans with 'richer and more satisfying lives.'"

More income for consumers will be needed, Mr. Truman said.

MRS. ZORA GERBES

POLICE RUSH KILLER TO CLEVELAND CELL

By The Associated Press (Picture on Page 9)

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14—In the sharp early morning cold of an obscure crossing in Cleveland's flats, a 23-year-old youth stepped jauntily off a train today to be greeted by seven auto loads of police.

Just arrived from Baltimore he was Harold Beach Jr., admitted knife slayer of Sheila Ann Tuley, 8.

Detectives said they stopped the train before he reached the terminal to avoid possible mob violence.

Quickly, Beach was hustled to a police hospital ward where he soon fell into an exhausted sleep after 48 hours of wakefulness and a police guard was set up near his bed.

Lt. David E. Kerr, who accompanied the youth, said he too, needed plenty of rest, adding that soon he would take Beach to the dark alley to have him point out the spot where he admits he stabbed Sheila New Year's night.

Kerr, chief of the Cleveland homicide squad, declared, "We will waste no time in presenting the case to the grand jury."

County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullinan reported the grand jury would not meet before Friday and expressed some doubt that the case could be prepared for submission to the jurors before next week.

The prosecutor added that Beach probably would be subjected to a sanity test.

Beach was arrested by Baltimore police Monday at the request of Cleveland police and confessed the slaying after several hours of questioning.

Sheila Ann disappeared after her father sent her to a neighborhood drug store for cigarettes and her bloody body was found nearly four hours later on a porch about a block from her home.

Acquit Petrillo Of Union Charge

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Jan. 14 — James C. Petrillo today was acquitted on a charge of violating the Lea act which congress passed to curb his broad union powers.

Federal Judge Walter J. Labaty, in his written opinion of eight pages, said "there is no evidence whatever in the record to show that the defendant had knowledge of or was informed of the lack of need of additional employees prior to the trial of this case."

The government alleged in its criminal case that Petrillo, head of the AFL American Federation of Musicians, had violated the law by calling a strike to coerce station WAAF, Chicago, to hire extra help.

MAN SOUGHT AS GERBES SLAYER FOUND IN WEST

By W. T. RUCHANAN Marion Star City Editor

Edwin Demoine Young, 39, wanted here under a first degree murder indictment in the churchyard slaying of Mrs. Zora Hess Gerbes, is in jail in Lamar, Colorado. Mrs. Gerbes was killed last July 11.

Sheriff Leroy Retterer this morning reported the arrest of Young after he and Prosecuting Attorney James E. Reed talked by long distance telephone last night with officials of Prowers county, Colorado, of which Lamar is the county seat.

Young was arrested Jan. 4 at Holly, Colo., 35 miles southeast of Lamar on a bad check charge. His arrest came slightly more than a week after his marriage at Holly to a 22-year-old country school teacher. They were married on Christmas day. Young was already married, having abandoned a crippled wife when he fled from Marion.

Early Morning Opening Scene

The arrest of Young adds another bizarre chapter to one of Marion county's classic murder mysteries. The story started at 2 a. m. the morning of July 11 when Harry and Charles Yeager, brothers, found a man and a woman under suspicious circumstances at the St. Paul Lutheran churchyard, five miles southeast of Marion on route 98.

The brothers called Sheriff Retterer and a half hour later Mrs. Gerbes was found dead, trussed up with a cotton clothes line and strangled to death. The man had disappeared. The only clue to his identity was his automobile license number and a description of the old model red-wheeled Chevrolet coupe he was driving.

The connection between the man arrested in Colorado and Young was established by the merest chance. Had it not been that Sheriff Retterer during the last few days was engaged in mailing a new circular to law officers west of the Mississippi river offering a $1,000 reward for Young's arrest, he might still have escaped detection as the man wanted here.

Colorado Sheriff Talks to Star

In a long distance telephone conversation with The Star this morning John Hodson, sheriff of Prowers county, described Young's arrest on the bad check charge and incidents leading up to the discovery he was the man wanted here.

Sheriff Hodson's account, follows:

"We had a warrant for the arrest of 'Roy E. Edwards,' who had written about $500 worth of bad checks around Holly and over the Kansas border in the Coolidge neighborhood."

"The warrant was sent to the Holly marshal. He made the arrest a week ago last Sunday and the man was brought to jail here."

"It was just another bad check case to me until I opened my mail yesterday (Tuesday) morning. There was this circular from the Marion county sheriff and I almost fell off my chair when I saw the picture. I never saw a better picture of a man. I knew we had him, although the name was different."

"I showed the prisoner the picture on the circular. He admitted it was his but claimed he couldn't remember the name. He talked kind of crazy like but I thought he was putting it on."

"He also admitted he had been in prison a couple of times but said he couldn't remember the details."

"I asked him if he would sign a waiver for his return to Ohio and he agreed. When he signed it he wrote the name 'Edwin Young.'"

Confirmed by FBI

Positive identification that Edwards and Young were the same person was given by Prosecutor Tuley last night in a telephone conversation with the FBI in Washington.

As a two-time convict in Ohio, Young's fingerprints already were on file there. They were compared with the prints of "Edwards" which Sheriff Hodson had forwarded immediately after his arrest.

The check of the two sets of prints was made by the FBI last night at the request of Prosecutor Reed.

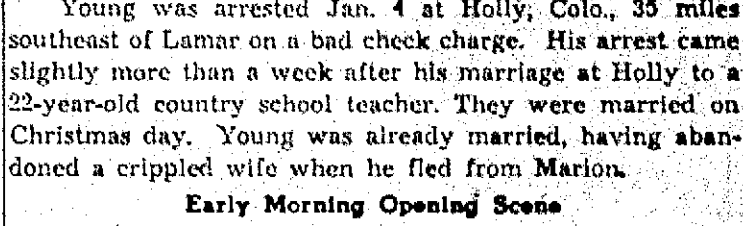

The circular which Sheriff Retterer mailed carried the customary full front and side views of Young and bore the heading—"WANTED FOR MURDER! $1,000 REWARD."

At the bottom were Young's fingerprints as obtained from the London Prison Farm where Young once served part of his second Ohio prison term. The first was in the Mansfield reformatory. Altogether he served seven years and a behind bars.

The circular also gave Young's name and the following aliases he is known to have used: E. N. Davis, C. F. Warner and E. Edwards. The fingerprint classification was listed together with the following descriptive material: Age 39, height 5-8 1/2, eyes light violet, hair dark chestnut, two front teeth missing. When he left Ohio he was driving a 1933 dark blue Chevrolet coupe, red wire wheels, Ohio license Q-4846.

Young was arrested Jan. 4 at Holly, Colo., 35 miles southeast of Lamar on a bad check charge. His arrest came slightly more than a week after his marriage at Holly to a 22-year-old country school teacher. They were married on Christmas day. Young was already married, having abandoned a crippled wife when he fled from Marion.

Early Morning Opening Scene

The arrest of Young adds another bizarre chapter to one of Marion county's classic murder mysteries. The story started at 2 a. m. the morning of July 11 when Harry and Charles Yeager, brothers, found a man and a woman under suspicious circumstances at the St. Paul Lutheran churchyard, five miles southeast of Marion on route 98.

The brothers called Sheriff Retterer and a half hour later Mrs. Gerbes was found dead, trussed up with a cotton clothes line and strangled to death. The man had disappeared. The only clue to his identity was his automobile license number and a description of the old model red-wheeled Chevrolet coupe he was driving.

The connection between the man arrested in Colorado and Young was established by the merest chance. Had it not been that Sheriff Retterer during the last few days was engaged in mailing a new circular to law officers west of the Mississippi river offering a $1,000 reward for Young's arrest, he might still have escaped detection as the man wanted here.

Colorado Sheriff Talks to Star

In a long distance telephone conversation with The Star this morning John Hodson, sheriff of Prowers county, described Young's arrest on the bad check charge and incidents leading up to the discovery he was the man wanted here.

Sheriff Hodson's account, follows:

"We had a warrant for the arrest of 'Roy E. Edwards,' who had written about $500 worth of bad checks around Holly and over the Kansas border in the Coolidge neighborhood."

"The warrant was sent to the Holly marshal. He made the arrest a week ago last Sunday and the man was brought to jail here."

"It was just another bad check case to me until I opened my mail yesterday (Tuesday) morning. There was this circular from the Marion county sheriff and I almost fell off my chair when I saw the picture. I never saw a better picture of a man. I knew we had him, although the name was different."

"I showed the prisoner the picture on the circular. He admitted it was his but claimed he couldn't remember the name. He talked kind of crazy like but I thought he was putting it on."

"I asked him if he would sign a waiver for his return to Ohio and he agreed. When he signed it he wrote the name 'Edwin Young.'"

Confirmed by FBI

Positive identification that Edwards and Young were the same person was given by Prosecutor Tuley last night in a telephone conversation with the FBI in Washington.

As a two-time convict in Ohio, Young's fingerprints already were on file there. They were compared with the prints of "Edwards" which Sheriff Hodson had forwarded immediately after his arrest.

The check of the two sets of prints was made by the FBI last night at the request of Prosecutor Reed.

The circular which Sheriff Retterer mailed carried the customary full front and side views of Young and bore the heading—"WANTED FOR MURDER! $1,000 REWARD."

At the bottom were Young's fingerprints as obtained from the London Prison Farm where Young once served part of his second Ohio prison term. The first was in the Mansfield reformatory. Altogether he served seven years and a behind bars.

The circular also gave Young's name and the following aliases he is known to have used: E. N. Davis, C. F. Warner and E. Edwards. The fingerprint classification was listed together with the following descriptive material: Age 39, height 5-8 1/2, eyes light violet, hair dark chestnut, two front teeth missing. When he left Ohio he was driving a 1933 dark blue Chevrolet coupe, red wire wheels, Ohio license Q-4846.

Curing a Difficult Problem

Parents witness new stages in the development of their child. The older the child, the greater the likelihood that bedwetting is due to psychogenic causes. A promising new treatment to correct this fault has been suggested. It involves the use of a substance called chorionic gonadotropin, a glandular product. Injections are given twice a week, and the dose gradually increased. As a general rule, only six injections are employed and no other form of treatment used. The first injection is given directly into the skin to determine whether or not there is any sensitivity to the preparation. Those who are benefited by the treatment usually show improvement by the time the third injection is given. If no improvement has been evident after six injections, it is useless to continue with the treatment. The treatment is employed until at least one week has passed without any bedwetting, and at least five injections have been administered. The children are usually cured or markedly improved after three weeks. Those cases which have been cured have remained so after three days.

In a group of sixteen children treated with chorionic gonadotropin, the ages ranged from three to fifteen years, and in all of them bedwetting had persisted since infancy. There was no abnormal condition of the urinary organs. The cases were classified as improved when the bedwetting decreased from three to five times weekly to about once a week. Eight of the sixteen cases showed this type of improvement. Seven of the sixteen, or almost half, were completely cured. The cures, as a rule, were in the children more than six years of age. In only one instance was the treatment a complete failure. No complications were noted.

Of course, it is possible that the improvement occurred not only from the gonadotropin, but rather from the combined giving of the injections and their mental effect on the parents and the children. As a matter of fact, bedwetting can often be cured entirely if the parents will adopt the proper attitude toward the problem, avoiding punishment, bribery, and similar measures in the attempt to overcome the habit. When the bedwetting is due to some physical abnormality of the bladder or kidneys or of the spinal column, this treatment will not help. When the cause is due to some disease, such as an infection of the bladder or kidneys, or diabetes, then again this treatment will fail. For this reason, a physician must first carefully determine the cause of the bedwetting before treatment is started.

Questions and Answers
S T What are the hours of the day in which to get the right sunshine for arthritis?
Answer: Sunshine may be of some slight help in the treatment of arthritis. It should not be depended upon to cure the condition. Sunshine at any time of the day is of value.

Holiness Youth Crusade
Here Attended by 250
Service of the youth crusade sponsored by young people of Second Pilgrim Holiness at the church Monday night was attended by approximately 250, with representatives present from Fostoria, Springfield and Ashley. Tonight's meeting will be a combined rally of the Columbus zone of the Pilgrim church and the North district of the Wesleyan Methodist church. Rev. John Woodhouse of Batavia, N. Y., is the guest speaker, and his message Monday night was "Marks of the New Birth."

Good response to an altar call was reported by Rev. Albert M. Hood, pastor. Rev. Norman Madrox of Fostoria led a song service, and Rev. Woodhouse sang two numbers. Tonight, Rev. Woodhouse will present musical numbers in addition to presenting his message and there will be other special music and singing by guest musicians of the visiting groups. The service will be at 7:45 and will be open to the public. Rev. Hood stated.

One Man's Opinion
By WALTER KERNAN
The news that a balcony on the White House would make our $20 bills obsolete has been received with quiet calm. Many thought that anything under $20 was obsolete now.
But the $20 bill has a picture of the White House on it and a balcony would mean issuing fresh money. Still it has gone a little stale anyway.
The last $20 bill I had, the White House still was under construction. If you look carefully you can see a little group of men digging a tunnel into the basement from the Republican club.
I wouldn't want to say that the man up front was Tom Dewey but if you run your finger over the face of the bill it tickles just like a mustache.
Anyway the national budget for 1948 is in now. We can go back to work until 2048 to raise it.
Democrats seem to feel that Mr. Truman could have asked for a lot more. Without getting it either.
But the President is busy with his balcony. The orchestra is already sold out for his daughter's next concert.

Report on Activities
Reports of activities for the first half of the year were made at a meeting of the Junior Red Cross council Saturday afternoon in the Red Cross chapter office. Mrs. William K. Hamor, Junior Red Cross chairman, was in charge.
Reports showed 100 per cent enrollment in the 29 schools in the city and county and it was announced that 275 gift boxes had been mailed to overseas children. It also was announced that others would be sent. This year's work included presentation of Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's favors delivered to the City hospital, Children's Home, a local rest home and the Waddell and county homes. The LaRue and Edison Junior schools made soft toys overseas and to blind children in this country. Correspondence posters were distributed to be placed on bulletin boards in the local schools. The posters are a part of the international work of the juniors.
Of interest to the group was an album received by the Oak Street Red Cross from children of primary school No. 5 at Inowoclawin, Poland, in return for a gift sent to the school. It was announced that the traveling to Poland had arrived and will be distributed to the schools.

One Man's Opinion
By WALTER KERNAN
The news that a balcony on the White House would make our $20 bills obsolete has been received with quiet calm. Many thought that anything under $20 was obsolete now.
But the $20 bill has a picture of the White House on it and a balcony would mean issuing fresh money. Still it has gone a little stale anyway.
The last $20 bill I had, the White House still was under construction. If you look carefully you can see a little group of men digging a tunnel into the basement from the Republican club.
I wouldn't want to say that the man up front was Tom Dewey but if you run your finger over the face of the bill it tickles just like a mustache.
Anyway the national budget for 1948 is in now. We can go back to work until 2048 to raise it.
Democrats seem to feel that Mr. Truman could have asked for a lot more. Without getting it either.
But the President is busy with his balcony. The orchestra is already sold out for his daughter's next concert.

Report on Activities
Reports of activities for the first half of the year were made at a meeting of the Junior Red Cross council Saturday afternoon in the Red Cross chapter office. Mrs. William K. Hamor, Junior Red Cross chairman, was in charge.
Reports showed 100 per cent enrollment in the 29 schools in the city and county and it was announced that 275 gift boxes had been mailed to overseas children. It also was announced that others would be sent. This year's work included presentation of Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's favors delivered to the City hospital, Children's Home, a local rest home and the Waddell and county homes. The LaRue and Edison Junior schools made soft toys overseas and to blind children in this country. Correspondence posters were distributed to be placed on bulletin boards in the local schools. The posters are a part of the international work of the juniors.
Of interest to the group was an album received by the Oak Street Red Cross from children of primary school No. 5 at Inowoclawin, Poland, in return for a gift sent to the school. It was announced that the traveling to Poland had arrived and will be distributed to the schools.

Lady of Victory Circle
Plans Dinner Jan. 26
Plans were made for a covered dish dinner Jan. 26 at a meeting of Our Lady of Victory circle, Daughters of Isabella, Monday night. Mrs. Sarah Chapman is chairman of the committee in charge of plans for the affair which will be held in Moira hall. On the committee are Mrs. Mildred Myers, Mrs. Catherine Schmidt, Mrs. Rozella Cochran, Mrs. Agnes Faulkner, Mrs. Patricia Winterhoff, Mrs. Gladys Giles, Mrs. Lagouri Gorton, Mrs. Virginia Greenland, Mrs. Ruth Himesse, Mrs. Ann Huxley, Mrs. Margaret Ford, Mrs. Collette Voll, Mrs. Anna K. Wright, Mrs. Bea Williams, Mrs. Clara Malo, Mrs. Jean McMahon and Miss Jean Leser. Plans also were discussed for joining other circles in the Columbus diocese in assisting in the establishment of a home for the aged in Columbus. Four members were obligated and 10 applications received.

WHITE SHRINE MEETS
During a meeting of Marion Shrine No. 15, White Shrine of Jerusalem, at the Masonic temple Monday night, the obligation ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Geraldine McKeen, chaplain. Two applications for membership were received. At a meeting Jan. 26, past officers will present a program, entertainment and refreshments. It was announced, following business, a social hour followed the meeting. The sewing circle will meet Wednesday at the temple for work and a covered dish dinner at noon.

Members of the Kenton Chamber of Commerce visited the factory of the Wilco Co., new Kenton industry, Tuesday following their regular weekly luncheon meeting. The visit was a continuation of the chamber's policy to visit one Kenton industry once each month throughout the year and was the fourth visitation since the program was instituted last November.

COLLECTION OF TAXES OFF TO GOOD START

Treasurer Opens Books for First Half Payments.

Marion county residents were arriving at the treasurer's office in the courthouse today in increasing numbers to pay their real estate tax assessments for 1947. Marion E. Hinklin, county treasurer, said.

Approximately $25,000 in individual real estate assessments were handled by the treasurer's staff Monday, the first day of the collection. As in years past A. L. Wiles of 133 Pennsylvania avenue, Marion, was the first to pay his taxes, Treasurer Hinklin said.

Although the taxes for the first half year assessments are due now, full year payments are acceptable and about 40 per cent of the taxpayers are paying on that basis.

Additional personnel has been added to the treasurer's staff for the heavy tax paying rush. The work of the treasurer's office has been made considerably greater because of the increases in every tax district due to the greater number of property owners in the county and the processing of payments of the special assessment for the Seloto-Sandusky conservancy district.

The treasurer announces that for the convenience of persons who work during the day the office will be open from 8 until 11:30 a. m. and from 1 until four p. m. on weekdays; and from 8 until 12 on Saturdays. The treasurer announced that toward the end of the period for which the tax books will be open, there will be special hours for taxpayers who cannot, through pressure of business, be present during the regular hours which are office is open.

Seek Murder Witness In Galion Yule Theft

GALION—Police Chief James L. Walker has sent word to the Quincy, Ill. police department asking that Robert Livingston, 16, formerly of Galion, be questioned regarding the day-light theft on Christmas, of the National Mailing Service, here.

Livingston is being held in Quincy as a material witness in connection with the fatal shooting of a Mansfield youth in Quincy on Jan. 6. He was arrested after Richard Grubbs, 17, of Mansfield, confessed the accidental killing of LeRoy Miller, also 17, of Mansfield.

Livingston who moved to Mansfield some time ago from Galion, was reported seen with Grubbs in Galion on Christmas. A window of the National Mailing Service was smashed shortly after one o'clock in the afternoon and a number of wrist watches valued at nearly $2,000 were stolen from the window.

CLARIDON SOCIETY MEETS

An all day meeting was held by the W.S.C.S. of Claridon Methodist church Thursday at the home of Mrs. Glenn Pickett on the Patten pike. The time was spent in quilting and placing a comfort top and a potluck luncheon was served at noon. Mrs. George Roush was welcomed into the society as a new member and Mrs. Grace Holland was a guest. The next meeting will be Jan. 22 with Mrs. Freda Smith on the Patten pike.

Edison Junior High Study Club Meets

Plans were made for a dinner party to be held in May at Ringler's Inn, the last meeting of the year, when the Study club of the Edison Junior High school P-T-A. met Monday, Jan. 5, with Mrs. Roy Buckingham on Uncapher avenue. Named in charge of entertainment was Mrs. Merwyn Harruff.

Devotions by Mrs. Closs Musgrave opened the meeting. Mrs. Donald Huber presented the program topic, "The Adolescence" by Ada Hart Arlett. Contest questions were won by Mrs. William Tharp and Mrs. J. Ward. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Ward and Mrs. C. Finchbaugh. The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. Pace on Henry street, with Mrs. Tharp and Mrs. Harruff as co-hostesses.

DZINSKI DISMISSED CHICAGO MAESTRO

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Dr. Arthur T. Dziniski, one of the nation's musical conductors who resigned as director of the Chicago symphony orchestra less than a year ago, has been dismissed by the orchestral association, which came to the orchestra last February resigning as conductor of the New York Philharmonic orchestra. The association trustees, who are not yet reelected to the present season ends in the association trustees' annual meeting yesterday. He is a former conductor of the Cleveland orchestra.

Statement given at a press conference by Cyrus H. Adams, association vice president, said differences of opinion between Dziniski and the association board of trustees "make it evident that his further association with the orchestra and the board of trustees cannot be continued."

The 56-year-old conductor was reported confined to his bed by illness, said in a statement that "I shall make no statement until I have examined the charges which apparently have been made against me—charges which I have not yet had any opportunity to meet or even to

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON
THOSE were brilliant days, warm and full of hope, in San Francisco in the spring of 1945.

They were full of hope for a lot of people that at last this world, soaked in blood, might be able to go on now without war.

Germany had surrendered. Japan was falling. And this country and its allies were meeting in San Francisco to create the United Nations. They did.

Some realists shook their heads when they saw the big nations insisting upon having a veto in the UN.

That veto, they knew, meant any one of the big nations could block all the others when it felt like it and make a joke of UN.

Nevertheless, here at last UN was coming to life and where there was life there was hope, and that was something.

The diplomats who nailed UN together, through many days and nights of hard work, drew up the rules and intentions of this new society of nations.

They called what they did a charter. And right at the start the charter said why they were setting up UN:

"We the people of the United Nations, determined to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war, which twice in our lifetime has brought untold sorrow to mankind."

"To unite our strength to maintain international peace and security; and"

"To achieve international cooperation in solving international problems . . ."

THE WORDS WENT ON. There were a great many words like those.

But that was three years ago and since then something has gone wrong because last night a report was issued here.

It was a 166-page book between pale blue paper covers. On the cover these were the words: "Survival in the air age—a report by the President's air policy commission."

And almost in the very beginning of the book the report of the President's commission said:

"Even the most optimistic view of the record and prospects of the United Nations does not assure us that the United Nations will develop in time the necessary authority and power to prevent another great war."

The President's commission was made up of five men, civilians, whom President Truman appointed last July for this reason:

To look into this country's aviation problems and suggest ways in which we could grow strong in the air, commercially, and what we should do, if anything, to protect ourselves with a strong military air force.

THE COMMISSION HAS been working hard since July, checking

They Might Cut Themselves

A TEMPTING place for budget cutters will be the European recovery program. Many of them are on record in favor of slicing all sums asked for to carry out the Marshall plan.

Congressional debate may show them the danger of cutting themselves with the economy knife if they use it unwisely. The Marshall plan is a lot more than a giveaway scheme. Walter Lippmann is one of a few observers to see that it's really a proposal for enlightened selfishness, something the Kremlin has understood from the outset.

Lippmann points out that the proportion of U.S. exports going to Europe since the end of the war and the proportion that would be sent there under the European recovery program is still smaller than it was before the war. The Marshall plan thus becomes a scheme to cushion the United States against the crash expected when rising production finally overtakes and passes domestic ability to consume. It is insurance against the depression which the Kremlin predicts will demoralize the United States and give international communism a clean sweep. At the same time, it is an attempt to revive production in Europe so healthy international trade can be resumed.

Some of the people complaining about the Marshall plan because it would cost too much might find themselves complaining if it failed because the European export market had died of neglect.

England on the Rebound

RISING steel and coal production indicates that England is climbing back to its former place in the industrial world. Anne O'Hare McCormick of the New York Times says a new air of confidence is pervading England, that while it eats less and grumbles more, it is beginning to walk with a firmer step.

"The English people are not shaken by the continental tempest," she writes. "At the lowest ebb of their fortunes, they remain immune to communism and unless the whole world sinks into slavery it is a safe bet that they will always be immune. The stabilizer that holds them steady now and will keep them from going to violent extremes is their long training in self-discipline and self-government."

The nature of England is changing but the nature of its people is unchangeable. Today's ruling class, having no tory tradition of empire, is impatient to be rid of troublesome outside commitments. But within the fabric of government, the people are more resistant to changes in their habits than the more fluid society of the United States and are more conservative in their fidelity to tradition.

No More Free Rides

NO ONE will quarrel with the President's request for amendment of the servicemen's readjustment act to prevent the misuse of G.I. educational funds for frivolous purposes. Classes in dancing, aviation and bridge have attracted applicants in such numbers as to assure the nation a gut of aviators, dancing masters and bridge teachers for years to come if only a fraction complete the courses.

It is unfortunate that stricter surveillance wasn't possible before this, for the harm has been done. Veterans' college, school and job training is declining, with the figure expected to drop below 500,000 by autumn.

No one begrudges veterans the right to training that will prepare them for good-paying jobs, but the law's intent has been twisted by some who hopped aboard for a free ride at government expense. There still remains the task of deciding what are "constructive education and vocational programs." Arriving at decisions like that makes the job of veterans administration director one of the most thankless in Washington.

But All's Fair in Politics

THE list of hard names Henry Wallace has been called would do credit to the late Charley Michelson, revered as the champion smear artist of his day. Yet, strangely, no one seems inclined to apply the proper name to what Mr. Wallace is doing.

He is using his power in politics—his personal following—to intimidate the Chief Executive of the United States. Because Mr. Truman is running for reelection, the loss of a few million votes might lick him.

Therefore, Mr. Truman, being a politician, will do everything he can to whittle down Mr. Wallace's following. He will try to coax them away with demonstrations of friendship. These demonstrations inevitably will be made at the expense of the national welfare.

Thus, the country had better be prepared to take it in the neck because Mr. Truman is being intimidated by Henry Wallace. In a sense, it too is being intimidated because he has become the darling of a compact minority bossed by the Communists and their dupes.

If it weren't politics, a thing like this could be called blackmail—blackmail of a nation. But in politics all's fair.

A patent has been issued for chemical peeling of potatoes by plunging them into a certain solution to loosen the skins, which then are removed by rinsing in water.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Love of Liberty Shows New Power.

THE spirit of man is not yet dead if men will give their lives for liberty. In spite of every betrayal and the bestial persecution of a police state, the Polish underground, that worked so effectively during the war, is being reassembled. It is not as efficient as the wartime body because the German was never as brutal as the Russian—but the Polish underground exists and it speaks to the Polish people and stirs their imaginations and their hopes.

These Poles risk more than we can imagine, but in many ways not more than the Jews in Palestine who pit their little strength against so many countries, against Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Syria, Egypt, Yemen, even against Pakistan, the newly liberated country that begins its career with oppression. Those Jews are upsetting many apostles but they are willing to die for what they believe is a just cause. They are making unbelievable sacrifices for a life of freedom. They reject enslavement and accept poverty, darling, hardship, hunger and even death for freedom.

In China, the very desperation of the Nationalist government has given men pause to weigh in the balance the danger of a foreign foe. Chinese who toyed with little politics and personal careers are beginning to ask whether the worst they can say about the Kuomintang is no better than subjection to a foreign country. There will be a resurrection of nationalism in China and it will come with the spring.

Different in Wartime
For a moment, time, as it were, stood still and there was much talk of one world. Nationalism became curiously unpopular. During the war, in this country, there were no nationalistic demonstrations, no new patriotic songs, no emotions aroused by poetry or oratory for love of country. The idea was that sovereignty would be limited and that ultimately great countries would be reduced to mere provinces of a union of countries. That passed like a wind on a desert.

For it did not take us long to discover that one world really meant an enslaved world, a vengeful world, a dominated world. It did not take us too long to learn that the nations that had lost their nationality during and after the war also lost the liberties of their people. They became shackled to the wheels of the great conqueror, the satrap of mankind. And those who dared to raise their voices for liberty were crushed or exiled, or exiled first and then crushed. Whichever way it went, freedom disappeared and death stalked the earth more after the war than during the days of battle. The war itself lost all meaning in the criminal betrayal of liberty and hope at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam.

Nationalistic Trend
And so, the flag of the nation took on new meaning, so full a meaning that many who had married abroad and had become citizens of other countries, sought to restore their American citizenship. It was not only a question of security but even more of liberty. An increasingly large number of all sorts of refugees and exiles from numerous alien lands sought American citizenship that their liberties could be protected. Some of the leading lights of those countries have found in American citizenship the only sanctuary for a continuance of their life work in freedom.

Among these latter ones are some who still prattle about internationalism. And if you were to ask the internationalists whether they would prefer a United Nations or a one world certificate of citizenship to the little piece of paper that makes them Americans, they would, I am sure, regretfully engage in a dance of their liberties and wave the flag even more wildly than you or I.

Changed Cycle
Nationalism is an optimistic trend. It is a constructive association. For more than a decade, those who placed love of country highest upon the list of their ideals were called isolationists, nationalists, reactionaries. Today they are the Americans. For the cycle has changed and one world has been recognized as the slogan of those who, for one reason or another, dare not glory in their own country. That day again drives men and women to heroic deeds of patriotism; it stirs men to give their lives for liberty.

Across the Board and Out the Window

Congress has rejected President Truman's plea for a $40 per person tax reduction.

And without ever leaving the jury box.

The emphasis is on economy at present and, as far as congress is concerned, Mr. Truman could have saved his breath.

The Republican majority thought the Truman proposal was aimed at vote allure rather than tax relief.

Still, one can but wonder; the way everything is inflated, how many votes can you buy for $40 a head... especially on the deferred payment plan?

At any rate, congress is now in the process of enacting its own tax reduction proposal. This, too, may be construed as a vote-buying attempt... but not on a one-price-to-everyone basis.

A Ghost Passes

By Raymond Moley

IN HIS many Washington years, Charley Michelson undoubtedly wrote more speeches for others than any person ever spoke or wrote for himself. As correspondent for the New York World and as an officer of the Democratic National Committee, he provided oratorical padding for senators, congressmen, cabinet officers and others. He contributed little or nothing to the output of President Roosevelt, who had a special technique of preparation which Charley was too impatient to learn. But almost every big figure on the Democratic side for a quarter of a century at one time or another spoke word banded out on the well-worn Michelson typewriter.

In his spacy book, "The Ghost Talks," Charley had little to say about his trade, although it was one of the most interesting and profitable of our time. He took it for granted, never tried to analyze it or consider its ethics, mechanics or principles. He just knew there was an unlimited demand for speeches, and he gave all his energy to meeting innumerable deadlines.

His output was so great that he never bothered to tailor a speech to fit the prospective speaker. In fact, many of his products were composed before he knew who the speaker was to be. Some occasion would present itself, such as the opening of Congress or a major speech of a Republican leader. Charley would dash off a speech, pointing with pride or viewing with alarm, then Farley or Flynn or somebody else would be consulted, and somebody would be selected to deliver the product. Sometimes the first selector would have another engagement, and the speech would be passed on to another victim. Occasionally, the speaker would not be selected until the very hour of delivery and he would have no time to look over his oration before he started talking. As a result, many Michelson masterpieces would be delivered in stumbling and incoherent style.

All this did not bother Michelson. His calm acceptance of political realities at times approached complete cynicism. Probably no one since Aristotle so completely separated in his mind the disciplines of politics and ethics.

Since the standards of ethics are largely determined by the prevailing standards of the time, there is nothing essentially wrong in ghost-writing or speaking. It is almost generally done and almost generally known to be done. Some statesmen assert that they write their own speeches. Wendell Willkie piously asserted that he "rolled his own," but he, as well as other protesters, was conspicuously supplied by obscure writers.

The number and variety of speeches required by a modern statesman or business leader require some sort of assistance. In the case of Roosevelt, nothing so crude as plain ghost-writing was involved. His speeches were developed by personal conferences, and the most highly skilled helpers sought to elicit the content and style of the speech from the man. The material was carefully tailored-written and re-written many times. In the end, the product was a veritable part of the speaker and he delivered it as if it had been wholly spontaneous.

But such perfection is not possible in mass production, and in the spot occupied by Charley Michelson mass production was essential. Charley's fecundity was infinite, and we shall not see its like again.

Marrying Cousins

Marriage of cousins would be illegal in every state if congress adopts the uniform marriage and divorce bill now before the senate judiciary committee, the current issue of Family Life reports.

Eighteen states permit the marriage of first cousins, while Oklahoma prohibits the marriage of second cousins. The provision on marriage of cousins was recently added to his bill by Senator Arthur Capper, Republican of Kansas, who has been introducing the measure from time to time during the last 25 years. Since it provides for an amendment to the Constitution it would have to be ratified by the states.

Biologists, Family Life reports, "are generally agreed that legislation prohibiting cousin marriage would be a step backward toward the Middle Ages."

"Marriage outside the family circle," the publication notes, "is preferable for many reasons, among them the enlarged circle of friends and relatives available to the young couple. But so far as heredity is concerned, a cousin marriage merely intensifies what the trait already is present in the common ancestry and if the valuable traits of the offspring are benefited rather than harmed."

One Taxpayer Heard From

By Phillip Carden

Hon. Harry Truman, White House, Washington, D. C. Dear Mr. President:

So you want to give the little fellow a boost to "buy the necessities of life." You want to deduct $40 for each dependent from his income tax payments. I, sir, qualify as a little fellow. I am a little fellow with a big family.

For your information, Mr. President, most of us little fellows are involved in the income tax law only to the extent of red tape and an occasional refund check. To deduct $40 from our income tax returns we must subtract from

We little fellows pay the following taxes, however:

Sales tax. This one you can't do anything about because it's a tax on everything we buy. It's a low-income tax a long time ago.

Social security tax. This is within your bailiwick, but you are not enough of a Philadelphia lawyer to figure out how this low-income income tax works and therefore could not offer a change in it even in the mood you displayed before Congress Wednesday.

Margarine tax. This one I must pay both federal and state because I can't afford butter and the dairy lobby is bigger than the people.

Corporation taxes. When I buy beans, the firm that canned them gives me the privilege of taking care of a part of the tax it pays, thank you—or didn't you realize that?

High-bracket income taxes. With the president of the corporation that cans my beans has to draw $2,000,000 to clear $300,000—as he does under the present law—he doesn't forego the salary he thinks he's entitled to just to keep my can of beans at pre-war prices either.

Amusement tax, federal excise tax, real estate tax (by rent or deed), permit taxes, gasoline taxes, inspection taxes, inspection fees and ad infinitum.

Mr. President, I am not accusing you of insincerity. I know you are sincere in wanting to be president again. But even if I were to get that mythical $40 you're talking about, my vote still is not for sale and the $40 wouldn't even pay the milk bill for my four kids for more than five or six weeks.

Yours truly,

One Taxpayer

Off the Cob

By Harry A. McCreia

ONE doesn't think of Connecticut as a corn state. It runs more to watches, locks, submarines, insurance, hardware, burley tobacco and Yale men.

It is interesting to note, therefore, in the Connecticut Development Commission's bulletin, that hybrid corn is a Connecticut product. It was developed at the New Haven Experiment Station by Dr. Donald F. Jones, who worked out the "double cross" method of planting. You plant three seed-producing rows to one pollen-producing row, then detassel the seed rows to prevent self-pollination.

Hybrid corn was slow taking root. As late as 1933, only one acre in 1,000 was planted in it. By 1939 this had risen to one in four, to one in two by 1943 and now it is near the 100 per cent mark. More than 60,000,000 acres were planted in hybrid corn in 1947, which adds about three-quarters of a billion dollars annually to American farm income.

Next summer, when baring a fang at a roasting ear, pause, be sociable, and address the little lady across the table as follows:

"Interesting thing about this corn we're eating. Do you realize it is a Connecticut product? You don't ordinarily think of Connecticut as being a farm state but it was right up there at the New Haven Experiment Station that they developed it. Yes sir, New Haven was where they developed it."

"The secret lies in double-cross planting. Man by the name of Jones figured it out. You plant three pollen-producing rows to one seed-producing row. Or is it three seed-producing rows to one pollen-producing row? Anyway you detassel part of the rows to prevent cross-pollination. Interesting isn't it, my dear?"

And she will reply: "Shedap, and stop smearing butter all over your plate. At a buck fifteen a pound yet! I got better things to do than listen to you lecture on how to breed corn. By the way, you're going to wash the dishes tonight. Maybe your smart friend up at New Haven can figure out a way to cross-wash them."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Letters for Special Delivery

Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR:

For the luvvamide will you do something about curing the issue of postage stamps at least getting them down to a size so a customer will know when he is buying a three-cent stamp and when he is buying a roll of wall paper, a plastic storm-shutter or a blow-out patch?

I see where a new one is coming out in a few days called the Sutter Gold Discovery stamp, which will be another one a little too big to fit on the heels of something called the "Eagles" National Park stamp, which was a waste of a looking thing to put on a letter. I never saw it. It was too big for my letter. I would write and rich stomach-ache green the Sutter stamp, I see, will be deep purple and certainly no smaller. From the pictures of it the papers I would think it about the size of an old Currier & Ives print, only it has more style on it than Currier & Ives would have attempted.

It looks like a summer resort souvenir postal of the type the Boosters Club would get up and more words than you would find on anything but a billposter for a cigar or liver pill. In a letter like you would find on a yellow newspaper extra proclaiming a third world war, says:

CALIFORNIA GOLD CENTENNIAL

Sutter's Mill, Coloma

Where James W. Marshall

Discovery Started the

Rush of Argonauts

1848 U.S. POSTAGE 1948

What is happening among the fellows who design, authorize and print postage stamps in this country today? Is it being done by a lot of refugees from advertisement agencies, experimental lithograph shops and some organization, dedicated to ignoring the paper shortage? Has anybody who is a designer of whiskey labels got a hand in this business?

How does Washington reconcile this unnecessary use of paper, mullage, dyes and inks with its non-stop economy drives and "Don't Waste" campaigns? Huh?

In my book the postoffice department is losing all conception of the main purpose of a postage stamp, which has always been utilitarian or super-decorative. The only object should be to turn out a stamp that will fit onto an envelope without requiring the help of an engineer, a few crowsbars and a couple of tire jacks. For over a century Uncle Sam managed to get out postage stamps that were easy to handle and could be stuck on a fairly large envelope without concealing the address. They just had profiles of Washington and Jefferson and Lincoln and didn't go in for grand scenic effects and technicolor.

I had a letter the other day that required three stamps, an airmail and a special and had to splice two envelopes together in order to find room for them. Is that right?

Maybe you are concentrating on making life exciting for stamp collectors or just having good clean fun, I wouldn't know. But you are making life miserable for the people who mail letters and just want a simple stamp, not a curio, a kidney plaster or a synthetic Indian blanket.

Brooding About Dogs

By TRUMAN TWILL

Like millions of others, we have been brooding about dogs, of which we own a couple. Or do we own a couple of dogs? When it is meal-time the dogs get fed first because if they don't they voice their resentment. Moreover when they have finished eating they stretch out comfortably for a nap and do not offer to help wash the dishes, including their own.

They get up in the morning when they please, which may be at 6, meaning they expect everybody else to get up too and so signify by beginning to tear down the door. Or they may decide to sleep until 10, causing all other members of the household to step over, around and among them.

They do not toil, neither do they spin. They track mud into the house, and if not watched closely will carry the house into the mud. When it is time to buy their licenses they do not start in line, and if they get into trouble they do not make the necessary explanations to the police and the dog warden.

They must be shotfull of this and that at X dollars per shot to make them healthy but lack the gumption to go to the doctor's office and tell their own power. They lack the initiative to brush their own toenails, clean their own ears, brush their own hair and wipe off their chins after drinking.

They keep an eye on the most comfortable chairs and recline in them when no one is looking also when someone is looking. They retain the right to be temperamental about strangers, sulking when they are supposed to be friendly and taking a disgusting shine to characters who deserve to be bitten.

They occupy the best spots in front of the fire are fussed over when they show contempt for their food, are uninhibited in their social contacts, refuse to exert themselves in hot weather and have more fun in the snow than would be decent for a human being.

They are protected from cruelty by human beings who abuse them but never have used a paw to protect human beings from cruelty. Dogs, they dig holes in lawns, trample shrubbery, destroy household furnishings, run away when they feel like it, chase cats and bite the man who jots down the incredibly high readings on the gas meter—all privileges denied to human beings they exploit.

And when they have made things intolerable and their welcome is worn out, they stick out their pink tongues, wag their tails and roll their eyes and that is supposed to make everybody all right again. The crazy thing is that it does, which is why people who are owned by dogs sometimes get to brooding about their state of involuntary servitude.

Mrs. Louise Narance entertained members of the A.S.D. club recently at her home at 364 Mary street. Letters of thanks in regard to boxes sent overseas by the club were read by Mrs. Collette Miley and Mrs. Eileen Tibbott. The evening was spent socially with high honors in cards going to Mrs. Oma Smith of Ashland, second to Mrs. Norma Sturgeon, consolation to Mrs. Stella Lee, and traveling to Mrs. Hilborn. Guests were Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Nancy Narance and Mrs. Suzanne Chabrand. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Miley and Mrs. Smith. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Hilborn of 649 Mary street.

As a result of tryouts for membership in the Marion Juvenile Lecture-Recital club held Friday evening, Jan. 9, thirteen young people were accepted for membership in the club. Those accepted are Martha Ann Wolfinger, Patricia Speck, Sally Boynton, Nancy Dickson, Linda Linscott, Ruth Jones, Marie Moore, Suzanne Rinnert, Marlene Davis, Marilyn Creasap, Roger Jamison, Pamela Neville and Suzanne McCurdy. The tryouts were held in the vestry room at the Y.M.C.A. To become a member of the club, a student must be recommended to the club by his teacher, and then acceptably present from memory two numbers before three members of the Senior Lecture-Recital club.

Weddings
Word has been received here that Mr. and Mrs. Owen Johnson, married Sunday morning, Dec. 21, in the Evangelical United Brethren church at North Robinson. The bride is the former Miss Marjorie Ann Garverick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Garverick of Galion, and former bookkeeper at Hotel Harding here. She is a graduate of Galion High school and of the Marion Business college. Her husband is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson of Dayton and is proprietor of the South-Hi Dairy in Lima. He is a Navy veteran of World War II. The wedding ceremony was read by Rev. Price Campbell, pastor of the North Robinson church. Open church was observed and the double ring marriage service was used. Ralph Wilson and Orey Bishop, uncles of the bride, sealed the guests, and vocal selections by Arthur Thoman Jr. were accompanied by Miss Joan Dougherty who played the wedding marches. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white slipper satin with silk net yoke trimmed with seed pearls and fashioned with long sleeves and bouffant skirt ending in a train. The full length veil was fastened with a tiara of daisies matching the bridal gown, and the bridal bouquet was of white pom-poms and chrysanthemums. Miss Martha Stoner of Marion, maid of honor, wore blue crepe, and bridesmaid, Miss Catherine Garverick, sister of the bride, wore rose crepe.

Capt. Francis Bunn of Mansfield was the best man. Sandra Bunn, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and James Garverick was ring bearer. Presiding at the reception at the home of the bride's parents were Misses Mary and Tresa Lill, Mrs. Francis Bunn, Mrs. O. I. Bishop, Mrs. K. H. Wilson and Mrs. Rollie Wilson. Guests were present from Richmond, Va., Mansfield, Marion, North Robinson, Galion, Bucyrus, Fulton and Cardington.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Miller of 340 Avondale avenue are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Rosemary, to John D. Rayner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence N. Rayner of 322 Latourrette street. The ceremony was read Saturday, Jan. 9, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the rectory of the St. Mary Catholic church by the pastor, Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V.F.

For her wedding, the bride chose a two piece dress of winter white wool with gold button trim. With this she combined wine accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white baby mums centered with a purple orchid and showered with white satin streamers. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Miss Jean Bowman, the bride's only attendant, was attired in a light blue moire dress with black accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue baby mums centered with a gardenia and showered with blue satin streamers.

James A. Lee served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Miller chose a black and pink silk crepe dress with black and pink accessories. Mrs. Rayner was attired in a black costume with which she combined gray accessories. She wore a corsage of white baby mums.

Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Dorothy Gail Stephenson.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents for about 50 guests followed the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Serving were Mrs. Catherine Pruzzo, Mrs. Nellie Harman and Miss Stephenson.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip into southern Ohio and Kentucky, Mrs. Rayner was wearing a two piece gray wool dress with wine accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Rayner attended St. Mary High school and was employed at the Galliaher Drug store. Mr. Rayner was graduated from Harding High school with the class of 1934 and is employed at the Street Pattern Works. He served 32 months with the U. S. Navy in World War II with 24 months of that time overseas in the Pacific theater.

The bride's gift to her attendant was a compact and the bridegroom gave his best man a tie clasp.

RICHWOOD—In a church service at 2 o'clock Sunday, Miss Ruth Eileen Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Fisher of near Richmond, became the bride of Lyal Mannasmith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mannasmith of near Richwood. The couple repeated the vows in a double ring ceremony in the Essex Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. John Elwood officiating. The custom of open church was observed.

The bride's street length dress was of light blue crepe. Her accessories were black and white and for something old she wore a gold locket watch which had been in the family for a number of years. She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of white roses with white ribbon streamers and greenery.

As matron of honor Mrs. Gene Welsh wore a white wool dress with black accessories and a corsage of white roses. The bridesmaids were lighted by Miss Rebecca Blue and Miss Betty Stallsmith. They wore corsages of white carnations. Gene Welsh served as best man and ushers were Glen Mannasmith, brother of the bridegroom and Ross Shoup.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Fisher wore a brown ring dress with aqua trim. Her accessories were in brown and aqua. Mrs. Mannasmith wore a black and white silk jersey dress with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations. The altar of the church held large baskets of white mums with greenery and

Plans Progress For Federation Fashion Review

PLANS are going forward for the program to be sponsored by the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs Tuesday night, Feb. 3, when Mrs. Richard P. Grzymala of Lakewood, dramatic reader and pageant director will present "100 Years of American Fashions."

For this program, which will take the place of the regular monthly meeting of the federation, is open to the public and tickets are now being sold by the club women for the affair. The program will be given in the Masonic temple and clubwomen as well as non-club members will be asked to purchase tickets.

Living models will be used to present the costumes which date back as far as 1820. Mrs. Overmyer accompanies the fashion parade with an instructive and amusing commentary on the social and domestic customs of the times which they illustrate, and gives the history of each gown. Her references to the administration of the various presidents during which the dresses were worn, her knowledge of textiles and the tracing of the evolution of fashions in America from 1830 to 1930 provide additional historic background.

Two seven-branch candelabras, one on each side.

Proceeding the ceremony a program of music was presented by Mrs. Stanley Meddies at the piano. Miss Marsella Redey was soloist. Mrs. Meddies selections included "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" Herbert; "Always" and the traditional wedding march. A reception in the church basement for 125 guests followed the ceremony. A large three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom standing before a miniature wedding bell. Assisting at the reception were Miss Edna Parish, Mrs. Glenn Blue, Mrs. Edward Morgan and Mrs. Ben Fry. After the couple returns from a short wedding trip, they will make their home with the bridegroom's parents for the present. Mrs. Mannasmith is a graduate of Richwood High school and is employed at the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. in Marion. Mr. Mannasmith is a graduate of Richwood High school and is engaged in farming.

ORY OF SEA SCUE TOLD

als 46 Men Off Burning
Connolly Had Close
Call.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 14—A story telling 46 exhausted men who survived in lifeboats for 12 days after abandoning their blazing funeral ship in the North Atlantic is told by the skipper of the rescue ships.
The men had a close call with a Capt. G. Ober of the Black and white freighter, Union Victory, told the Associated Press radio account of the rescue of hands of the U. S. Army port Joseph V. Connolly.
The 27 men his ship rescued were worn out after their battle with rain, hail, cold and waves
they could hardly climb
the freighter, Capt. Ober said. Union Victory reached

Halifax, Nova Scotia, with the 27
survivors today.
The Gen. R. E. Callan, an Army ship, picked up the other 19 survivors of the Connolly which was swept by fire early Monday 900 miles east of New York while enroute to Antwerp with 6,445 empty coffins to bring back U. S. war dead.
Captain Ober, of the rescue freighter radioed that after receiving a distress call from the funeral ship, the Union Victory reached the reported location but he could not see the blazing ship or its lifeboats.
"A U. S. Army plane searching the area notified us they had sighted the Connolly and the survivors drifting hopelessly 32 miles away," he said.
"We proceeded to the position through heavy seas and hail storms to get a lifeboat of survivors aboard."
"The first boat of survivors were hardly able to climb the ladder aboard the rescue vessel, because of fatigue and the heavy seas pounding the boat alongside of the vessel."
"Two injured men in the life-boat had to be brought aboard in stretcher baskets under this hazardous condition. Darkness was setting in. We maneuvered to pick up the other boats of survivors.
The second boat was alongside when another rescue vessel (The Callan) came upon the scene."
"The other vessel managed to pick up the other two boats of survivors. We were very fortunate to get survivors aboard without the loss of any life in these hazardous rough seas and conditions."
The 19 survivors aboard the Callan were to travel on her to Bremerhaven, Germany.

Court Gives Ruling In Child-birth Case

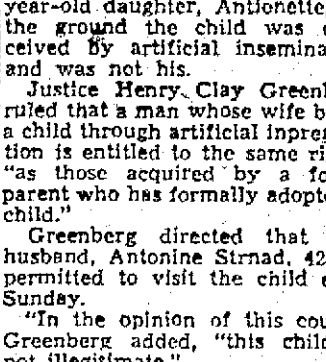

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 14—A child born as the result of artificial insemination is legitimate, a New York state supreme court justice held yesterday in ruling that the husband of the mother of such a child has the rights of a parent.

The decision came after a hearing on a petition by Mrs. Julie Sinnad, 31, who requested the court to deny her estranged husband the right to visit her five-year-old daughter, Antoinette, on the ground the child was conceived by artificial insemination and was not his.

Justice Henry Clay Greenberg ruled that a man whose wife bears a child through artificial inpregna-tion is entitled to the same rights
"as those acquired by a foster parent who has formally adopted a child."

Greenberg directed that the husband, Antonine Sinnad 42, be permitted to visit the child each Sunday.

"In the opinion of this court," Greenberg added, "this child is not illegitimate."

PROGRAM GIVEN AT GIDEONS' MEETING

Rev. Henry Maag Speaks On Church Ministry.

At a potluck supper and meeting of the Marion camp of Gid-eons Tuesday night at Prospect Street Methodist church, several guests were present. A program included music and devotionals led by Rev. Henry Maag, host pastor.
Separate business sessions of the camp and auxiliary were held under direction of the respective executives. At and Mrs. Harry Crownier, and it was voted to give white Testaments to nurses and nurses' aids at City hospital.
Choruses were led by Clifford companied by Mrs. Dutt. Guests besides Rev. Weinstel were Rev.

and Mrs. Maag, Janet Adams, Mrs.
Florence Stubbs, Mrs. Irene Dills,
Juanita Dale Kauble, and Miss Arens Hinds.

Rev. Maag spoke on "The Four-fold Ministry of the Christian Church." He declared that "The church is the body of Christ at work in the unsaved world. First, the church has the ministry of warning men and women of sin.
Its ministry of reconciliation is that of telling Christ's message of forgiving love. The church has a ministry of service, and also a ministry of worship. When we come in the right spirit to the house of the Lord, we will be blessed, no matter what the quality of the singing and preaching may be. If we expect to live in a better world, we must follow this four-fold plan. If we have accepted the world's finest AVIATION TRAINING for OUTSTANDING YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA

Hundreds of opportunities

If you are 17 to 34, physically fit, and can pass certain mental examinations, you may enlist right now in the U. S. Air Force. Once in the Air Force you will have an opportunity to qualify for one of the many technical or specialized training courses offered by the Air Training Command. In addition, you may take courses under the United States Armed Forces Institute and complete your high school education. Then, if you are between 20½ and 28, you may compete for appointment to Officer Candidate School.

Special opportunities for high school graduates

If you have graduated from high school you can enlist in the U. S. Air Force for 3 years and will be accepted for an Air Force Specialized School of your choice before you enlist, under the Aviation Career Plan. If you are between 20½ and 28 you can compete for appointment to Officer Candidate School.
Single men between 20 and 26½ who have two years of college or can pass an equivalent examination may be eligible for Aviation Cadet Training.

Special opportunities for men with two years of college or the equivalent

In addition to the opportunities offered by the Aviation Career Plan and Officer Candidate School, all unmarried male citizens between 20 and 26½ are eligible to apply for Aviation Cadet Pilot Training (next classes start March 1 and July 1). Successful graduates of pilot training will be rated as Air Force pilots, commissioned as 2nd Lieutenants, Air Force Reserve, and assigned to flying duty with the U. S. Air Force. These officers will have an opportunity to compete for a Regular Air Force commission. 2nd Lieutenants, unmarried, receive pay up to $336 per month.

Special opportunities for Veterans of any of the Armed Forces

If you held an occupational specialty in any of more than 300 skills with the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines or Coast Guard, you may be eligible for a grade as high as Technical Sergeant in the Air Force, depending upon your skill and previous experience. Former officers may apply directly to Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C., for a determination of a grade in which they may enlist.

ALL THESE OPPORTUNITIES AND GOOD PAY, TOO!

Don't overlook the money in an Air Force career. Right at the start, you make $75 a month, plus such essentials as food, clothing, quarters, medical and dental care, provisions for retirement, and in a few short months, you may be rated Private First Class at $80 a month. This actually gives you more net take-home pay than the average civilian who is paying for equal benefits. For full details, ask at your nearest

EVENTS SCHEDULED BY RETAIL BOARD

Annual Dinner and Training Institute Planned.

The sub-committee chairman of the retail board of managers of the Marion Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday noon in Hotel Harding to complete plans for the annual dinner meeting of retail store managers. The meeting was in charge of Charles Jennings, newly elected chairman of the retail board. The dinner will be Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 6:30 p. m. in Hotel Harding. The speaker will be Robert R. Bangham, assistant state director of public welfare. Mr. Bangham also owns and operates a retail furniture store in Wilmington. He is a Rotarian and has served as district governor for the southern Ohio district. He also served four terms in the Ohio legislature from Clinton county at which time he was chairman of the finance committee. He is also former assistant state treasurer, State of Ohio.

Plans for the institute of retail training, which will start Monday, Feb. 2, were also completed. Miss Muri E. Frye, coordinator of distributive education of Harding High school, will be in charge of the series of six meetings, which will be held each Monday from 7 to 9 p. m. Miss Frye is well qualified, holding degrees in education, business administration, retailing, New York university. The institute, which will include informative talks from specialists in the fields, motion pictures and round table discussions by local merchants, will be conducted in cooperation with the Marion board of education and the Ohio department of education. The course, according to R. W. Solinger, secretary of retail board of managers, Chamber of Commerce, is open to anyone in any direct retail field who comes in contact with the consumer as well as commercial fields selling a service or product. Admission to the course will be by ticket only. Roll calls will be accepted at the office of the Chamber of Commerce on or before Monday, Feb. 2. Certificates of achievement will be awarded upon completion of the course.

UNIVERSAL COOLER CLUB ENROLLS NEW MEMBERS

Three new members were taken into the Old Timers club of the Universal Cooler division, International Detroit Corp., at a dinner meeting Tuesday night at Hotel Harding. They are Perry Hall, Eric Mayes and William Montgomery. They became eligible for membership when they completed 10 years' service with the company. Total membership in the club now is 32.

Dan Medici, president, had charge of the meeting, and T. S. Pendergast, assistant general manager, gave a talk in which he commended the club on its membership and gave reminiscences of happenings of the past years ago, and get-togethers formerly held by plant employees. Three movies were shown, "Let's Go Hunting," "Songs of the South" and a news reel on skiing.

Runaway Flight In Plane Ends Happily for Kids

By The Associated Press
TROY, O., Jan. 14.—A runaway flight in a "borrowed" private plane ended happily for four eighth grade truants yesterday, probably because the ship was what the 13-year-old pilot's father described as a "fool proof type."

With never a flying lesson in his life, young Jimmy Hartzell took the plane, owned by his father, Robert N. Hartzell, president of a propeller manufacturing firm, aloft, and flew his three companions around central Ohio for about two hours.

Air sickness on the part of two members of the party, caused Jimmy to decide to land, his father told newsmen. He chose a cornfield near neighboring Sidney and made an almost perfect landing. Hartzell said that the ship's "fool proof" construction was responsible.

"Otherwise," he declared, "there's no telling what might have happened."

Jimmy and his classmates, Morgan Van Lohr, 14; Tommy Ingie, 15, and Robert Wilson, 14, decided to inspect the Hartzell plane after cutting afternoon classes at school.

At first they told Sheriff Truman Pitts, they intended only to roll the ship out of the hangar on the Hartzell estate "to look at it better."

But Jimmy's parents were away, the sky was clear, and said Hartzell, "the situation was great."

Reporters were refused interviews, but Hartzell's tone indicated it probably wouldn't happen again.

McDaniel Motor Co. Annual Meeting Held

The McDaniel Motor Co. held its annual organization meetings of stockholders and directors at the company's office at 309 West Center street Tuesday night.

M. L. McDaniel and J. H. Clark were reelected president and vice president, respectively, and M. L. McDaniel Jr. was elected secretary. O. E. Kennedy was reelected treasurer. Directors chosen for the ensuing year are M. L. McDaniel, chairman; M. L. McDaniel Jr., John H. Clark, E. L. Bush and Morgan E. Burke.

BANK

day the railroad put its passenger service into operation through Marion, Mr. Kennedy recalled today.

The Marion County Bank moved to its present location in 1908. The building at that time was occupied by the Kleimaler Brothers clothing store. The building was purchased by the company in 1919.

Six Employees Then
When Mr. Kennedy entered the employ of the bank the staff numbered six, banking hours were from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m. and as long after closing time as it took to clear the day's business. The staff is now trebled at present and hours are much shorter.

Along with the expansion of business Mr. Kennedy feels that the installation of mechanical operation is one of the major advancements in the business, recalling that when he entered the business there were no adding machines, and posting and other records were carried on through hours of use of the pen.

Founded in 1839 by J. S. Reed, Dr. H. A. True and R. H. Johnson under the firm name of J. S. Reed and Company, the bank organized with a capital stock of $30,000. Mr. Kennedy is the fifth president, the others being Mr. Reed, R. H. Johnson, Harry True and W. H. Schaffner, all known by Mr. Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy make their home at 697 Vernon Heights boulevard.

DOING HIS PART

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—"I'm doing all I can to produce more Democrats," declared James Roosevelt, California Democratic committee chairman, earnestly pleading last night for party support. It drew a big laugh from the audience. Roosevelt's fifth child—a daughter named Anna Eleanor for his mother—was born last Saturday.

TRAINED ARAB ARMY TO MARCH ON JEWS

By The Associated Press
DAMASCUS, Syria, Jan. 14.—Defense minister Ahmed Sharabati says trained Arab "people's army" will launch a direct frontal attack next month to sweep Zionism for Palestine. Some Arab sources here believe Feb. 15 may be D-day.

Sharabati said in an interview the attack will be made "with men and arms in an honorable war to preserve the rights of our Arab brothers." He said full scale training and arming are in progress and declared there will be "no bombing in the dark."

Military observers denied a "people's army" already in the Palestine fight, and said the recent invasion of Palestine from Syria was a Padi tribal sortie led by Prince Faur Faur.

*Pawl Bey Al Kaukji, chief of the volunteer fight against Zionism, who said he had been in Palestine "several times" in the last month, declared:

"In one month you can witness the results of our preparations. This is war. We propose to sweep Zionism from Palestine with superior military force."

Informed Arab sources expressed the opinion that political and military leaders were trying to coordinate activities for a Feb. 15 D-day, but conceded that was only a "tentative" date.

In Jerusalem an authoritative source said the Palestine government asked the Christian, Moslem and Jewish religious communities to declare Jerusalem's ancient walled area an "open city" as bloodshed continued in the Arab-Jewish warfare.

EUROPE'S USE OF U.S. HOLDINGS "FOLLY"

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today vigorously opposed requiring the 16 Marshall plan countries to use their dollar holdings in this country to help cover costs of the $6,800,000,000 European Aid program.

"It would be folly" to force them to do so, the secretary told the senate foreign relations committee.

Snyder said citizens of these countries had about $4,800,000,000 in dollar assets on last June 30, he added.

It would be difficult to get cash ready on short notice, he said, as some are already pledged for loans; the European need the funds to cover their normal trade and financial operations; and their holdings already are below a "safe" amount needed to keep their own currencies steady.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.), a committee member, had promised before Snyder appeared to press the question whether the Marshall plan nations would be required to sell their citizens' holdings in this country to help pay for the aid and if not, why.

Guerrilla Attack In Greece Reported

By The Associated Press
ATHENS, Jan. 14.—Press dispatches said today a large guerrilla force had attacked Arak-holia near Patras only 20 miles from where the army started a mopping up drive yesterday with an amphibious operation at Eratini on the gulf of Corinth.

The dispatches variously reported the attackers to number from 600 to 1,500 and said they struck from three sides at Arakholia, 75 miles northwest of Athens and near Delphi. The air force harassed the guerrillas and dropped ammunition and supplies to the village the reports said.

When the guerrillas sailed a land-and-water roundup of Communist suspects in the Athens vicinity had netted 800 persons in 24 hours.

REFRIGERATION MEETING

Sciolo chapter of the Refrigeration Service Engineers will hold its monthly meeting Jan. 15 at 6:30 p. m. The meeting will be preceded by a dinner at the Coffee Pot restaurant on Bellefontaine and Davis street for chapter members, their wives and guests. Miss Ruth Kleinmiller, home demonstration agent for the Ohio Public Service Co., will give an illustrated lecture on "The Home Preparation and Care of Frozen Foods." Members and guests unable to attend the dinner may hear the lecture at 8 p. m.

CANTON BUS STRIKE ENDS

By The Associated Press
CANTON, Jan. 14.—Buses rolled along snowy streets here today for the first time since an AFL union bus drivers' strike ended last night. The strike ended suddenly last night when AFL International Teamsters union voted unanimously to accept a 16-cent-an-hour pay raise and some undisclosed fringe benefits which a union spokesman said would mean "perhaps another cent or two."

denied having abandoned a wife and child when he left Marion.

Driving Same Car
Sheriff Hodson said Young still was driving the old model coupe, although the red wheels had been painted a silver color. Sheriff Retterer said this morning it had not been determined whether the machine would be brought back here. "It may be," he said, "we will have photographs taken of it there for identification purposes."

Prosecutor Reed was in Columbus this afternoon to obtain extradition papers for Young from the office of Gov. Thomas J. Herbert. Reed, Retterer and Special Prosecutor Russell M. Wilhel were planning to go to Lamar to take custody of Young. The prosecutors will make the trip in case it is necessary to have a hearing before the Colorado governor before Young can be removed from the state.

When the officials will leave for Colorado was not certain at noon today. They may leave tonight if machine reservations can be made. Otherwise they expect to leave here about noon tomorrow.

The sheriff said today he had completed mailing 2,600 of the latest circulars, one of which was received by the Colorado officials. In all 4,142 circulars have been mailed at various times since the search for Young started.

First To List Reward
The new circular, however, was the first to offer a $1,000 reward. This fund was raised by $100 contributions from the state, the mayor and the remainder through personal solicitation by Lee Kellis, stepfather of Mrs. Gerbes.

The question of payment of the reward was uncertain here today. Officials said it would be determined by provisions of the Colorado law with which they were not yet familiar. In Ohio law officials are not entitled to accept rewards for arrest and conviction of criminals. Payment of the reward will be contingent upon the eventual conviction of Young as the slayer of Mrs. Gerbes.

Grand Jury Session Delayed
The arrest of Young caused the 16th grand jury session to be postponed until tomorrow.

Two Brothers Discovered Grim Murder in Rural Churchyard

By WILLIAM D. STANBRO
Discovery of the Gerbes murder was by two brothers, Harold and Charles Yeager, 22 and 20 respectively, who live east of St. Paul's church. They were returning from Marion about 2 a. m. As they made the turn east from route 88 to the Firstenberg road, their car headlights revealed a man who attempted to dodge behind a machine parked in the church driveway.

Their suspicion aroused, the boys decided to investigate and drove into the churchyard. There the woman's body was found lying on the gravel drive beside the car later identified as belonging to Young.

The boys immediately went to a neighboring home and called Sheriff Retterer who arrived at the scene about 2:30 a. m. When he discovered that it was apparently a murder, Sheriff Retterer called County prosecutor James E. Reed and Dr. E. H. Morgan, coroner.

The man at the scene by that time had fled. When discovered first he had told the boys he would wait at the church while the call for the sheriff was made. When the boys returned a few minutes later both the man and his car were gone.

Rules on Case of Death
Dr. Morgan gave the death cause was strangulation. A clothesline with a slip knot on one end had been placed around the victim's neck three times and drawn tight. It had been passed under the knees and tied with the knees pulled up almost under her chin. The body was nude with the exception of a black and white checkered blouse buttoned down the front and torn at several places, and one shoe.

Remainder of her clothing later was discovered thrown over the churchyard fence. It comprised green dungaree trousers and the other shoe. Investigators said the trousers were turned wrong side out indicating they had been torn from the woman.

An autopsy was performed by Dr. Morgan and Dr. Frederick T. Merchant. Dr. Morgan said there was circumstantial evidence of criminal assault and that there was some evidence showing the killing was committed by someone with sadistic tendencies. Only marks on the body were bruises on the left leg and discoloration around the neck where the clothesline had bitten into the flesh.

Following investigation a warrant was filed in municipal court July 12 by prosecutor Reed charging Young with first degree murder.

Abandoned Wife, Son

When Young left Marion, he abandoned his 40-year-old wife Mrs. Lillian Walton Young and his four-year-old son. Young is afflicted with a club foot and confined to a wheel chair.

Several days after Young had failed to return to his house trailer home on Midlam avenue, Herman Walton of New Philadelphia, her father took the forsaken woman and boy back to that city, her childhood home.

Mrs. Gerbes, divorced mother of three small children had been a resident of Marion for 15 years prior to her death. She had made her home with her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Kellis.

to keep production up when exports fall off, when credit shrinks, and when savings are reduced, and "more consumer income must be accompanied by better income distribution."

He continued:

"Within 10 years, maximum employment will mean 64,000,000 jobs or more."

"To raise the individual to the highest level of productivity and to provide outlet for the increasing part of the labor force which technological changes may displace from the mass production industries, we need improved services in education, health and social security."

Repeats Previous Requests

Going over again much of the ground he covered in his state of the union message a week ago and his budget message last Monday, the President called for federal aid for elementary and secondary education, prepaid health insurance, and an increase in the payments and coverage of social security, both old-age and jobless pay benefits.

Speaking in terms of 10-year goals, Mr. Truman proposed to provide soil management on half the nation's crop and pasture land, more yield, development and stockpiling of strategic materials, and the industrial development of "retarded" regions.

"We should within 10 years be able to increase our annual national output by 25 per cent," the President said. But he declared that business plants and equipment need expansion—especially, he said, in the steel, oil, coke, and electrical industries.

Mr. Truman said a long-range housing program and the rebuilding of blighted city areas should be set in motion by prompt act of congress as a start toward the objective of a decent standard of American housing within 10 years.

Farm Goal Suggested
Farm policy, he asserted, should aim at a 10 per cent increase in agricultural output in the decade ahead through soil conservation, the use of three times as many tractors as before the war, federal price supports, and other measures.

As for international affairs: "Our economic relations should be such as to aid in the restoration of Europe under the European recovery program. ... in a framework of increasing world prosperity, our country can move forward most confidently to meet the problems of our domestic economy."

The report was based on economic data prepared by a President's council of economic advisers. That group was created under the employment act of 1946 to advise the government on policies best calculated to maintain maximum employment, production and purchasing power. The council is made up of Edwin G. Nourse, chairman, John D. Clark and Leon Keyserling.

The law which set up the council and requires an annual message from the President also created a joint senate-house committee to weigh its recommendations. Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the senate's Republican policy committee and a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, heads the committee.

1947 Record Reviewed
Blending optimism and caution, the President gave this review of the 1947 record:

Consumer income reached a new high rate of $1,264 a person a year, compared with $1,014 in 1946, but the buying power of the consumer's income dollar dropped nearly eight per cent. Savings were smaller and consumers "drew increasingly on credit."

Consumer credit—Which Mr. Truman wants brought back under wartime controls—also reached a new peak—$13,300,000,000 by year's end.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated, and you cannot afford to take chances with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature's soothing and healing power. Inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

rose to $28,000,000,000, or one-third higher than in 1946; profits after taxes were $17,000,000,000 as compared with $12,500,000,000.

Business investment reached a record level of $25,000,000,000, but "some part" of the increase lay in higher prices of building and equipment.

Housing units completed were nearly double the 1946 number—but high costs raised the question whether this rate could be continued.

Exports hit an annual rate of $20,000,000,000, then declined. The future balance of trade will depend much "on the size of government aid and private credits extended."

The gross national product, which measures all goods and services produced in current dollar values, reached a $27,000,000,000 a year rate in the last half of 1947, compared with $24,000,000,000 in 1946.

Here Mr. Truman flashed another "danger—inflation" signal. The increase in consumer expenditures exceeded by $3,500,000,000 the increase in their incomes, he said, adding that at their present income consumers cannot absorb the new rate of production when savings dwindle, when the use of credit subsidies and when business retreating levels off.

"Wage advances during 1947 kept up generally with the cost of living trend during the year," the President said, "but did not gain the ground lost when price increases exceeded wage advances in 1946."

Marion Bundles Up As Temperature Skids to 6

Marion residents who had to go out of their homes and to their place of employment this morning found it necessary to bundle up with mufflers, scarfs and warm gloves as the temperature had taken a decided drop during the night to a low of six degrees above zero. However, by 8 a. m. today, the mercury had risen to nine degrees above, and was expected to continue to rise during the day with the sun shining brightly.

A forecast of fair and colder was issued for tonight, according to The Associated Press, with increasing cloudiness and not so cold followed by snow forecast for Thursday.

The high temperature reading for the period between 8 a. m. yesterday and the same time today was 30 with a snowfall of 1.1 inches. A year ago, it was decidedly warmer with the high registering at 45 and the low at 15.

ST. MARY BLASTS HARPSTER; 51-43

Irish Capture Eighth Win As Trojan Rally Falls Short

The Harpster Trojans became the eighth victim of the St. Mary cagers last night, by a 51-43 score.

Captain Dick Schuler led the Irish scorers with 15 points. The high-scoring six-foot four-inch Trojan center, Bob Clark, paced the losers with 24 markers, 21 of them in the last half.

Coach Pette switched the Irish players around somewhat, moving Cork Cusick to forward and John Baldauf to guard.

The Trojans outscored the Irish in the foul department, accounting for 21 as compared to 14 for St. Mary.

Although the Fettermen dominated the whole game, Harpster quintet scored 15 points in the last four minutes. These were largely due to the efforts of the tall Clark.

The Trojans used a zone defense but scrapped it for the more effective man-to-man. The Irish also used a man-to-man defense.

St. Mary trailed once by one point, that being in the first period on a free throw by Clark for the first score of the game. Marion scorers were Cork Cusick, Dick Schuler, Dick Drake, John Baldauf and Bob Stuber. The Irish led 11-7 at the quarter's end.

St. Mary poured it on in the second stanza, outpointing the Trojans 14 to four. Cusick, Schuler, Baldauf and Jim Moloney pushed a total of five baskets through and Schuler and Baldauf each sunk two foul shots. Lodge and Ott Stone scored Harpster's two baskets. Harpster trailed at the halfway mark, 26-11.

The Trojans tied the Irish in points in the third frame, each team swishing 12 tallies to make the score 38-23.

The Trojans' Bob Clark went to town in the final period, hitting the hoop for 13 points. St. Mary's scoring was more general.

Wilberforce State Defeats Bluffton To Remain Ohio's Only Unbeaten Team

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 14—It's still Wilberforce State against the field in Ohio college basketball.

The cagers from Xenia, boasting the only perfect record in the state, swept aside Bluffton (won one—lost six) last night, 57-41. For their fifth straight against college rivals and their seventh in a row over all competition.

Bluffton made it a contest for almost a half. Then Wilberforce flashed ahead for a 23-19 intermission lead and pulled away easily in the final half.

Wilberforce's Jim Eaddy, Bill Shields and Harold Scott scored 36 points between them. Dick Grapz led Bluffton with a dozen. Elsewhere last night, Ohio Northern slaved off a last-minute Wilberforce rally, 60-58; Defiance downed Huntington, Ind., 57-50; Bowling Green scored its 16th win in 18 tries, blasting Findlay, 66-30; Dayton led most of the way in halting Bluffton college of Columbus, 69-51; Grove City, Pa., nicked Hiram in an overtime.

Defiance and Huntington battled on even terms until the waning minutes of play. Then Defiance shot in front to win going away. Center Merle McDonald and guard Jim Walsh each scored 18 points for the winners. Ohio Northern led Wilberforce by 11 points with only six minutes to play, and then the Ada boys were happy to settle for a two-point victory. Wilberforce's nifty center, Gene Fellmeth, tossed in 16 points in the last half, after being held to only two points in the opening period. Bill Hayden of Northern was high scorer with 20.

Staubenville had a 10-9 lead when the West Liberty coach sent in six-foot one-inch Eli Mumley, who proceeded to whip in 27 points to break up the ball game. Bill Snyder had 18 for Staubenville.

Action tonight sends Baldwin Wallace to Ohio Wesleyan, Case to Mount Union, Akron to Kent State, Xavier to Miami, Otterbein to Heidelberg, Wilmington to Ohio University (Chillicothe branch), Defiance to Tri-State, and Penn to John Carroll.

CHARLES KO'S MOORE Golden Gloves Training Starts at YMCA Tonight

Earns Near Certain Crack at Lightweight Crown.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14—Ezzard Charles was virtually certain today of a shot at the light heavyweight title after chilling Archie Moore, the No. 2 contender, at the Arena last night.

Ebony Ezzard blasted Moore to the canvas for the full count in the eighth of a scheduled 15-rounder to maintain his National Boxing association rating as the leading challenger for the crown.

All previous efforts to arrange a match between the Cincinnati cloutier and Champion Gus Lesnevich were fruitless, but NBA President Abe Greene recently announced that body would call upon the winner of the Lesnevich-Billy Fox fight March 5 to defend the title against the winner of last night's bout.

Charles left no doubt in the minds of the 8,334 customers that he is ready for a championship bout. Moore, no powder puff puncher, himself, had the Ohioan in trouble in that final round but Charles shook off the miseries and charged in victoriously.

A crashing left and right dumped Moore to the floor. He struggled around on one knee trying to rise immediately and Charles then applied the finisher, another right.

Moore reached feebly for the ring rope as Referee Jackie Davis finished his toll of 10, but couldn't reach his feet again for some 20 seconds—and then only with the help of his handlers.

Charles had a comfortable lead when the end came, although Moore jarred and rocked him several times in the earlier stanzas. Two rounds, the third and fourth, were taken away from Charles for low blows. The Cincinnati came in at 173½, the fraction representing his weight advantage over Moore.

Tonight marks the opening of the training for the annual A.A.U. Golden Gloves district boxing tournament.

Preliminary discussion and instruction will be given by Joe Yannitelli, chairman of the tournament, starting at 7:30 in the boxing room in the Y.M.C.A.

These training periods will continue every Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., until the tournament is held in the Armory on March 15, 17 and 19.

According to Yannitelli, the training and instruction of the official A.A.U. weight divisions will be under the capable direction of Jack Lewis, Howard Hodges, Jimmy Williams and Otis Scott. Richard Langdon, who handled the training of the heavyweight last year, will again coach this division with the help of Harold Van Gordon.

This younger group will start their training Friday at 4 p. m. and will continue Mondays and Wednesdays and Fridays at this hour.

Experience of Golden Gloves contenders of previous years has shown that regular training is one of the most important factors for a successful showing in the finals. Local boxers are urged to take full advantage of the coaching made available to them.

Many boxers are expected to be present tonight as indicated by applications already received. Entrants are asked to fill out the accompanying entry blank and bring it to the Y.M.C.A. tonight. Additional blanks are available at the Y and can be turned in there or mailed to J. J. Bray, 250 Summit street.

Strong U. S. Skating Team Must Learn European Style

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 14—The strongest Olympic speed-skating team ever assembled by the United States will be a distinct threat in the 1948 winter games at St. Moritz, Switzerland, Jan. 30-Feb. 8—if it can do a hurry-up job in learning to race European style.

The nine-member American squad is fortified with youth, with six stars 24 or under, and Coach Pete Miller of Chicago is banking on that youth to provide the stamina demanded by the Olympic program of four championships ranging from 500 to 10,000 meters.

Miller readily admits that the current squad, headed by brilliant Bob Fitzgerald, 23, of Minneapolis, who is favored to whip Europe's best at 500 meters, is the best this country has dispatched to five Olympiads.

It's captained by Delbert Lamb, only holdover from the 1936 U. S. Olympic team and the "old man" of the squad at 32. It has such other top-notchers as Ken Bartholomew, 27, Minneapolis; Ray Blum, 27, Nutley, N. J., also one of the best amateur bicyclists in the country; Ken Henry, 18-year-old Chicagoan; Louis (Sonny) Rupprecht, 21, St. Louis; and Art Seaman, 24, and John Market, 22, both of Minneapolis.

If the Americans, especially in the 1,500-meter (approximately one mile), 5,000 meter (3¼ miles) and 10,000 meter (6¼ miles), are to overcome European competition, predominantly from the Scandinavian countries, they'll have to be plenty savvy to the art of Olympic skating.

In this country, skaters whoop through races pell-mell in pack fashion, letting a rival set the pace and break the wind.

In the Olympics, the races are against time with only two skaters taking the ice at one time. These two alternate laps between an inner and outer course on a double 400-meter track. Each course is about 15 feet wide and the two are separated by a one-foot high ridge of snow which has a long opening to permit the skaters to switch.

Rarely, if ever, do the two skaters hook up in a man-to-man duel, the race being almost entirely confined to a test of paces against the clock.

Rarely, if ever, do the two skaters hook up in a man-to-man duel, the race being almost entirely confined to a test of paces against the clock.

READON ACCLAIMED BY ST. LOUIS FANS

By The Associated Press
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 14.—Sam Breadon, who as head of the St. Louis Cardinals established himself as the most persistent winner in the longest-tenured position in the history of the game, was today unanimously elected to the club's sixth annual banquet, receiving the city nine National League championships and World Series titles was visibly moved last night as he received more than 1,000 bouquets and a testimonial dinner.

Readon, disclosing that he had been elected president of the club, said he had been president for more than two years before he was elected when he would step back on the field and impose his authority on the club's celebrities.

Readon broke me all up to leave the organization. But I'm not as old as I used to be. I know old time will get me sooner or later and I don't want him to get me before I had things set."

AKRON U. STUDENTS ASK COACHES' REMOVAL

By The Associated Press
AKRON, O., Jan. 14.—A 14-member "fact-finding" committee of the Akron student council today had recommended that Head Football Coach Paul Baldacci and Athletic Director Russell J. Beichler be ousted from their jobs and that Dean Howard R. Evans be removed from chairmanship of the university committee on athletics.

In a 28-page booklet summarizing 127 hours of committee meetings with players, alumni, former coaches, high school coaches, officials of 26 colleges, and others, the fact-finders put forth their conclusions.

University officials, including the three named, adopted a "no comment" policy following presentation of the report at a student assembly yesterday.

The fact-finders' report made 39 recommendations intended to remedy the "confusions, non-cooperation, inefficiency, complacency and negligence in the performance of duties" in the athletic program.

Marysville Drops Delaware, 45-22

Special to The Star
MARYSVILLE, Jan. 14.—The Marysville Monarchs took their seventh victory in ten starts here last night, defeating Delaware, 45-22, leading all the way.

Forward Jack McGuire and guard Harry Evans led the list of Monarch scorers with 12 points apiece, but Jerry Kingsmore and Bill Wall pushed them at eight and seven respectively.

Jack McKinney, Delaware center, dumped in four from the field and one charity basket to lead the Panthers. He was the only starter who scored a field goal for Delaware.

The Marysville reserves won, 36-21.

SMITTY'S GIRLS WIN CAGE LEAGUE OPENER

In the opening games of the Girl's Basketball league at the Y.M.C.A. last night Smitty's Girls defeated the Arros, 27-22. Miss Carpenter with 19 points led the scoring for the evening as she hooked shots in from the corner consistently. Miss Holler led Arro with 12 points.

The second game of the evening was forfeited to the Y-Girls when Caledonia failed to floor a complete team. Y Girls did play a practice game however, and were defeated 27-20 by the pick-up team, Miss Le Marche was high scorer for the Y-Girls with 10 points while Miss Redman made 10 for the pick-up team.

Next week's schedule shows Caledonia vs. Smitty's and Arro Expansion Bolts vs. Y-Girls, the first game to get underway at 7:30 at the Y gym.

GIANT OWNER OPPOSES FRISCO ENTRY INTO N.F.L.

By The United Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Owner Tim Mara of the New York Giants, whose refusal to let Dan Topping operate a National League franchise at Yankee stadium resulted in formation of the All-America conference, came out in opposition today against admitting San Francisco to the pro football loop.

"If we add San Francisco to our league," he said, "we will have 11 teams—an uneven number that will make scheduling tough."

Mara's opposition was expressed on the eve of the National Football league's annual meeting which opens tonight in the Hotel Commodore.

4-MILLION-POUND MAGNET DUE SOON

By International News Service
CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The University of Chicago announced today it expected delivery of the magnet for its new giant cyclotron before next July.

The magnet, furnished by the Bethlehem Steel company, will weigh 4,140,000 pounds and is considered the heart of the atom smashing machine.

The cyclotron will be an integral part of the university's recently announced 12-million-dollar atomic research program.

Dr. Herbert L. Anderson, physicist in charge, said that invisible protons are expected to reach speeds of more than 160,000 miles a second when accelerated in a vacuum chamber surrounded by the magnet.

Anderson said the protons are capable of penetrating a foot of solid aluminum at that speed.

The cyclotron will be put into operation next year and will be used in the Institute of Nuclear Studies' basic research of nuclear forces.

Navy Pictures Shown At Meeting of Rotary

Rotarians were treated to an informative and entertaining motion picture in their weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding on Tuesday. The picture, shown by the "Silent Service" and told of activities of the Navy submarines during the war. It dramatized both combat with the enemy and sea rescue work.

George Alber, chairman of the crippled children's committee of the club, read letters from the pupils of the George Washington school for crippled children thanking the club for Christmas gifts and the annual Christmas party held for them.

Guests of the club were Theodore P. Frericks, Dale E. Hughes, Charles Whysall, L. B. Conkle and C. D. Harmon, all of Marion, W. G. Sperrie and Clous J. Nogawick of Mansfield, Gerald Shumaker of Bucyrus and Paul Greer of Columbus.

The Harding High school reporter for the meeting was Warren Hall.

Getting Ready To Pay Ohio Vets' Bonus Is Colossal Job

By International News Service
COLUMBUS, Jan. 14.—So you wonder why the Ohio bonus to veterans of World War II isn't ready to be paid?

Well, here's a part of the purely mechanical reasons.

The powers-that-be, to pay the bonus, must first secure:

A pile of application forms some 3,000 feet high—more than four times the height of the Cleveland Terminal Tower or five times the height of the Washington monument.

More than 50 tons of large, self-addressed envelopes—enough to fill three box-cars—375,000 envelopes, each of $1,000 denominations—and million checks—literally hundreds of thousands of other forms.—and

Desks, chairs, typewriters, business machines, and all the other mechanical and office equipment needed for a staff that, even in the beginning, will total 200 or more workers.

It would take a modern, high-speed press running the application forms four-at-a-time at a speed of 3,000 an hour, more than three months of 40-hour weeks to complete that one task alone.

Of course, more than one press will be used, but even at that, Adm. Gen. Chester W. Goble, bonus director, believes he may be "optimistic" in hoping for delivery of 100,000 forms a day.

A Big Order

Goble is ordering three and a half million application forms. With the accompanying instruction sheets, that means seven million printed sheets of paper.

Even at the delivery rate of 100,000 a day, it will take 35 working days for the printer to complete the run.

The self-addressed envelopes 1,300,000 of them—have to be printed individually, at a slower rate of speed. At a rate of 2,000 an hour, it would take a press more than 80 eight-hour days to complete the run. However, Goble hopes to have them delivered at the 100,000-a-day rate also.

There are other forms as well. The ordinary stationery already has reached 25,000 letterheads and 30,000 small envelopes. A total of 875,000 other large envelopes are needed for outgoing forms. There will be 100,000 of the applications for next-of-kin, each a six-page affair, including two pages of instruction.

Easy To Fill Out

The instructions on the regular form will be complete enough to enable a veteran to complete the form without assistance, although there will be county service officers and veterans' posts officers available for assistance if needed.

The instructions will even tell a vet what to do if he has lost his original discharge papers. He will be told how to secure a duplicate certificate, which will be accepted by the bonus office. Although there are somewhat

Only 8 New Autos Sold Here in Week

"The transfer of new cars and trucks for the week of Jan. 8 to Jan. 13, shows a sharp decline in the sale of new cars although the sale of new trucks was double that of the previous two weekly periods," stated Clerk Calvin Osborn, Marion county clerk of courts.

Car sales for the period totaled only eight for the week against 25 cars for the previous week and 20 cars for the last week of 1941.

Truck sales rose to four this week to double the weekly totals of the two preceding periods, during which only two trucks were sold in each period.

"We wouldn't have been able to accomplish what we have without their marvelous cooperation with the state purchasing department."

Other Offices To Help

As much of the office equipment as possible will be borrowed from other state departments. State headquarters of the bonus will be in leased quarters at 293 East Long street, Columbus.

The offices will occupy the four and fifth floors of the building, with a total of 28,220 square feet of floor space.

Goble and his staff already have received preliminary proofs of some of the necessary forms, with actual delivery of them at the 100,000 a day rate—scheduled to start "some time next month."
